Connect for Health Colorado® is a public, nonprofit entity established by the Colorado General Assembly in 2011 to create a health insurance marketplace. Since 2013, we've been helping individuals, families and small employers compare plans, apply for financial help and buy health insurance. As Colorado's official health insurance marketplace, we are the only place where Coloradans can apply for financial help to lower the cost of health insurance and compare their choices side by side.

Open Enrollment Report for Plan Year 2024

As a result of improvements in our technology, changes to federal law, innovative state laws, Colorado Connect, and our statewide network of certified experts, nearly 250,000 Coloradans signed up for a health insurance plan by the end of the Open Enrollment Period.

237,107 Coloradans enrolled in a health insurance plan through Connect for Health Colorado's marketplace during the Open Enrollment Period for 2024 coverage, and 77 percent of them received financial help to lower costs.

This total was an 18 percent increase over the last Open Enrollment Period and is our biggest enrollment period ever.

Additionally, 12,485 people enrolled in a health insurance plan through Colorado Connect, Connect for Health Colorado's public benefit corporation and online platform. The majority of those Colorado Connect enrollments were from the OmniSalud Program, which provides people who are undocumented in Colorado with a safe platform to compare plans, apply for financial help, and enroll.

Taking Control of Customer Support

To prepare for Open Enrollment, our Customer Service Center revamped operations by bringing systems and staff completely in-house. And thanks to investments in the technology we use to run renewals, we were able to retain more customers than ever before.

With our own tools and staff, customer service representatives were better positioned to support not only customers, but also health insurance Brokers and community-based Assistants. Even though the Customer Service Center received 10 percent more calls this Open Enrollment compared to the last, we improved upon our level of service to customers: the average speed of answering a call went from nearly 6 minutes last year down to less than 3 minutes this year. And the support we offered during those calls prevented customer stress – we saw a 50 percent decrease in formal complaints.

In-House and Independent

Supporting the customers of a health insurance marketplace is unique, considering that the majority of customer assistance happens during the limited Open Enrollment Period every year. We prepared for the Open Enrollment Period by setting up our own tools, hiring new staff, and adjusting the way we hire temporary customer service representatives. This allowed us to respond to call trends with more flexibility and help callers reach solutions.

Increase in Re-Enrollments at Renewal Time

Thanks to investments we made in our technology in 2023, we experienced an increase in re-enrollments during the Open Enrollment Period. Automatic renewals for eligible customers increased by 56 percent over last year, or almost 60,000 more individuals, helping us retain our current customer base.

All About Costs

Connect for Health Colorado is the only place where Coloradans can access financial help to cover monthly premiums and health care costs.

The enhanced financial help via the Inflation Reduction Act kept the cost of staying covered controlled. This year, 3 out of 5 customers could find a plan for $10 per month or less after Advance Premium Tax Credits were applied.

Additionally, Colorado's Health Insurance Affordability Enterprise provided enhanced cost-sharing reductions to people shopping on the Marketplace. This year, the Enterprise expanded the eligibility criteria so that more people could receive the highest level of cost-sharing reductions. As a result, we saw the number of people receiving these benefits double from last year.

Rural and Urban Enrollments

One of Connect for Health Colorado’s strategic goals is to advocate to improve access to coverage in rural areas of Colorado.

Staying with a five-year trend, the majority of the largest increases in enrollments came from rural counties.

About Our Customers

We're here to help as many eligible Coloradans as possible get covered with health insurance.

For a fourth year, we saw an increase in people choosing Gold-level plans: a 5-percentage point increase among those who qualify for financial help and a 4-percentage point increase over last year for those who don't qualify for financial help.

Plan Choice by Plan Type

Connect for Health Colorado also saw a notable increase in customers choosing a Colorado Option plan this Open Enrollment Period compared to last year when they were introduced on the marketplace. Colorado Option plans allow customers to more easily compare plans across a standardized benefit and better predict their out-of-pocket costs with copays.

The Impact of Expert Assistance

Health insurance brokers and community-based assisters are experts at helping customers understand and navigate their health insurance.

About 64 percent of all Marketplace enrollments and 69 percent of all OmniSalud program enrollments were completed with the help of a health insurance Broker or an Assister.

Not only do these experts guide customers through the application and enrollment process, but they also provide education to improve Coloradans' understanding of what financial help is available, how health insurance works and how to use their coverage. In 2023, there were extra enhancements to financial help available, and enrollment Assisters helped customers find plans with significantly lower out-of-pocket costs than in prior years.

Our Assisters had over 4,500 conversations related to health insurance literacy where they explained insurance terms, helped estimate health care-related costs, and discussed how to avoid delaying care.

Navigating Coverage Transitions

Our focus on teaching people to understand health coverage was especially important this year because 2023 saw the end of COVID-19 pandemic protections. These protections had kept Health First Colorado (Colorado's Medicaid program) enrollees continuously enrolled even if they became ineligible. As a result of the policy change, we saw thousands more Coloradans coming to our Marketplace during Open Enrollment needing expert guidance after losing their Medicaid coverage.

We heard from one family who found themselves no longer eligible for Health First Colorado just as one family member approached an upcoming surgery. They worked with a local Assister who helped them navigate the various coverage options that each family member was eligible for. The children were moved to the Child Health Plans Plus (CHP+) program and the adults found they were eligible for financial help through the Marketplace. They ended up getting covered with a health insurance plan with a monthly premium of $11.56 and a deductible of only $150. Within one appointment, the entire family was covered. This story illustrates just how important Assisters and Brokers are to keeping people insured and supported through coverage transitions.

Physical Storefronts for Our Online Market

With an intangible product and an online marketplace, Enrollment Centers are the brick and mortar for our business.

Connect for Health Colorado provides enrollment help at 51 Enrollment Centers across the state. The local Brokers and Assistants staffing these locations build their businesses to meet the needs of local residents, making each Enrollment Center a reflection of its community.

For several years, Enrollment Centers have remained popular in rural parts of the state, with 33% of all rural customers getting covered at one. Even during the winter months of open enrollment, Over 800 people around the state walked in to an Enrollment Center without an appointment. But whether a Coloradan lives in an urban home or a rural home doesn't always indicate how likely they are to visit an Enrollment Center. Even though walk-ins were less common along most of the urban front range, Aurora's Enrollment Center saw a lot of foot traffic. Regardless of the method of contact, customers from all 64 counties used Enrollment Centers.

Nearly all Enrollment Centers saw increases in their business, leading to a 12% increase in enrollments overall.

The Impact of Enrollment Centers

A mother whose Medicaid was terminating that day walked in to an Enrollment Center in Grand Junction. She was frantic and afraid she would not have ongoing health coverage for herself and her three children. In less than an hour, the Enrollment Center's Broker enrolled her family, including one young adult, in health insurance plans with tax credits over $668 and low costs for primary and urgent care. The coverage began the next day.

Meeting Coloradans Where They Are

We forged more community partnerships, sponsored more events in new parts of the state, and had more funding to do it all.

In fact, Connect for Health Colorado was present at 25 percent more community events than last year, and we forged relationships with an additional 100 community partners this year, bringing us to a total of 530 community partners throughout the state.

The goal of this work is to meet Coloradans where they already are and share information about how to get affordable health coverage. Another way we did this was through ambassador partnerships with select social media and entertainment influencers living in Colorado. These cultural influencers have a combined 171,000 followers on a variety of online platforms, expanding our reach to even more potential customers.

Bringing Experts Along to More Events

We enhanced our community event presence through closer partnerships with our local certified Brokers and community-based Assistants by inviting them to represent Connect for Health Colorado at these events. Having their expertise meant they could answer a variety of health coverage questions at the nearly 150 events we attended and sponsored leading up to the Open Enrollment Period.

Getting the Word Out

Connect for Health Colorado uses a variety of tools to spread the word about signing up for health insurance during the Open Enrollment Period.

Email Marketing

This year, we used a new email marketing software that allowed us to test email subject lines to find the words most likely to garner a click. To ensure visual continuity between our brand and advertising, we integrated the videos and graphics from our advertising campaigns into marketing emails.

Our email marketing campaign consisted of 45 emails to six targeted groups of people. These emails featured content that let customers know about enrollment deadlines, how to get help enrolling, and financial help available. Our open rates for this campaign stayed consistent with the open rates from previous years. Across the six groups, people opened these emails at rates averaging from 44 percent to 59 percent, well above industry standards. We achieved that success by strategically sending emails on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays.

Website Engagement

In total this Open Enrollment Period, 666,000 users visited our English website, 640,000 of them being new users. The website saw 25,411 users on its busiest day, December 15, which is also the deadline to enroll in a plan that starts at the beginning of the new year. Aside from the website's homepage, our most visited page was the page for new customers.

Social Media

This year, we incorporated a new platform into our social media strategy: Threads. During Open Enrollment we posted every single day on social media across each of our platforms: Instagram, Facebook, Threads, and X. We continue to engage with customers on social media year-round to generate awareness about Connect for Health Colorado.

Media

We shared Open Enrollment updates and important reminders in publications across Colorado. This year, we returned to The Colorado Sun for a panel discussion all about choosing a plan with our CEO Kevin Patterson, Insurance Commissioner Mike Conway, and certified Broker Meagan Fearing.

Reflecting Coloradans in Our Videos

To build on the success of last year's animated video campaign, we introduced two new characters: Dylan and Kelli. These new characters were created to reflect real Coloradans that we hoped to reach in our campaigns. We integrated all the characters from the video campaign into our social media posts, email marketing, our website, and new this year, our English-only and Spanish-bilingual advertising campaigns.

Dylan

Kelli

Dylan is a delivery driver in the Denver Metro area that has asthma, but they don't let their chronic condition get in the way of flying through the streets of Denver on their scooter.

Kelli is a mountain-living lady who loves to snowshoe. Kelli lost her job recently but is able to relax knowing she is covered by health insurance.

Attracting Customers with Advertising Campaigns

Connect for Health Colorado creates paid advertising campaigns to build awareness and bring people to our website. When someone reaches our website, they are more likely to enroll.

Our advertising strategy included two campaigns: one to reach English-only speakers and another to reach Spanish-only and bilingual speakers. Both campaigns showed improved performance metrics as a result of well-developed audience data and optimization of media tactics that we've honed in over multiple years. In total, our English-only digital advertising generated nearly 406,000 clicks to our website while the Spanish-bilingual email advertising generated over 11,000 clicks.

Some specific areas of growth we saw included a massive increase in the rate at which people click an English-only digital advertisement to visit our website: an increase of 103 percent compared to the last Open Enrollment Period. And in the Spanish-bilingual campaign, we found that 99.2 percent of those who clicked our ads to visit the website were new users who had never visited the site before.

Character Integrations Made for Stronger Advertising

In 2023, we created an animated video campaign using characters that represent key populations of our customers. This year, we integrated those characters into other media types in our advertising campaigns, and the visual uniformity proved to be successful. Our display video advertising with these characters beat out industry standards for viewability rates – we scored 63 percent for viewability, compared to the average of 52 percent.

Dylan and Kelli were the most popular video characters in the Spanish-bilingual advertising campaign according to the number of times people clicked on the digital advertisements they appeared in. And in our English-only advertising campaign, people watched Marissa for the longest amount of time in the video advertising she appeared in.

- ✓ Armando was our best performing character for our social display ads in English.
- ✓ Dylan was our best performing character for our social video ads in English.
- ✓ Dylan was our best performing character in English ads that appear before non-social media videos.
